

Wheatland & Golden Valley Counties CodeRed

CodeRED / Crisis24 System Update

Date: December 2nd, 2025

Wheatland and Golden Valley Counties are aware of the recent nationwide service outage and reported security concerns involving the CodeRED emergency notification platform. We want to reassure our residents that neither county experienced any disruption or security breach as part of this incident. All resident information remains fully safe, secure, and protected.

At this time, the emergency notification system will continue to operate under the name "CodeRED." Residents will not see any changes to how alerts are delivered or how they access the system. No action is required by the public, and we do not anticipate any operational changes in the near future.

We recognize the importance of reliable and secure emergency communication services. As always, Wheatland and Golden Valley Counties remain committed to maintaining a dependable system to keep our communities informed during critical events.
